The future of housekeeping: Trends, technologies and talents!

We would also like to cordially invite our colleagues from abroad to the 23rd Housekeeping Convention in Düsseldorf, and this year we are also offering presentations in English. Immerse yourself in the topics which will shape the housekeeping of the future: the integration of career changers, sustainability, innovative cleaning robots to relieve staff and software solutions which enable multilingual communication. Exchanging ideas with industry colleagues and communicating directly with exhibitors will provide valuable insights which you can use to increase efficiency and satisfaction in your hotel. Together we can shape the future of housekeeping and raise customer satisfaction to a new level.

Networking for the future

One of the convention's highlights is the opportunity to expand your professional network. Meet colleagues, career changers, junior staff and experts from the industry and service sector. We offer guided tours of the trade exhibition in small groups for participants who are new and/or do not know anyone yet. Many of these groups then meet up for meals together and set up WhatsApp groups which last well beyond the event. These networks are one of our greatest strengths since they promote knowledge transfer and cooperation within the industry on a long-term basis.

Be part of the future of housekeeping!

The 23rd Housekeeping Convention offers you the ideal platform to gain new ideas, make new contacts and set the course for a successful future. We look forward to seeing you in Düsseldorf!

Managing the Next Generation of Housekeeping

Staff shortages, shifting guest preferences, work-life balance, AI, and robotics are transforming the hospitality landscape. Hotels must either adapt or risk falling behind. However, these changes present a unique opportunity to work in a modern, tech-driven way which prioritizes staff well-being, enhances efficiency, improves quality, personalizes guest experiences, and increases profitability. Together, we'll explore how to turn these challenges into advantages.

Cobotic: The Future of Public Area Cleaning

In addition to selecting the right device, the added value which autonomous cleaning offers in a hotel depends on many factors in the property and its structure. As a trends scout for industrial hygiene, Sandra Oelgeklaus explains the innovations of autonomous cleaning and how cleaning can be rethought.

Process optimization in housekeeping

“How are you set up in housekeeping today?” – Innovative strategies to increase efficiency, the use of environmentally-friendly cleaning agents and effective time management techniques provide insights into new approaches to solutions. flexkeeping
